

Dear Students and Parents,

April was a month of re-evaluating and re-visiting our work through the year. Development was more holistic and focussed on bringing back the students to a set routine and pattern through the day. The program was planned to develop and sustain readiness skills in students to work in a physical environment at a later stage.

Observing the satisfying results in the year 2020-2021, all the interventions will be upgraded and modernized to suit the gradual development of the student in all areas.

The programs are being designed in such a way that it can be switched from online to physical school set up whenever need be. The support on the students will be slowly thinned down to make them independent, responsible and accountable for their work.

The program will involve new techniques like the Blended learning methodology for general knowledge inputs, developing one's motor development using all the senses, holistic body development through basic gym equipment at home. Most importantly it will be solely on the creativity and capacity of the student.

Three cheers to all our students and their efforts!

Happy Holidays!!

Happy to connect with you through the Sath Sadhana Newsletter!

Splash of colors always add cheer and life to the student's routine days. In today's fast paced living, everyone enjoy a beautiful fairy tale ending and more so ever when each and every part of the fairy tale is from one's own creativity and interests.

Class sessions were planned in a manner that the student receives varied experiences full of surprises. At the same time without missing out on the professional way of learning through skill, creativity, self-analysis, self-exploratory and self-motivation. This continuous process becomes enjoyable, and students always look forward to classes this way.

The imagination and creativity are always stimulated in different forms and in phases. The fairy tale storyline will continue into a full-fledged three-dimensional story line exposing the students at most creativity!
